A sincere thank you

Thank you to all those who supported the school last weekend and earlier this week. This was either through communicating with school through the appropriate channels, by keeping children absent from school for 48 hours and by remaining calm, dignified and respectful; it was very much appreciated. Have a good weekend everyone!

Please find below an anonymised letter from a parent handed to school on Monday 9th January

Dear Mr Hunt & team at Glusburn School.

I would like to thank you for your hard work in this recent outbreak. I appreciate there has been a lot of negativity surrounding it, which is often triggered by fear.

I am fully aware that all that can be done is being done, and that the correct processes have been followed.

As it is such a virulent bug these outbreaks are unpleasant but no-one's fault.

Thank you for taking time out on Sunday (your day off) to contact the relevant people, it is appreciated.

I work in the NHS so am fully aware of the above.

It can be pretty frustrating to have such complaints & negativity so I hope some positivity will go a long way. People are always more willing to complain than express thanks.

Open Mic Night: Friday 27th January: 7:00pm – 10:00pm.

Following the Christmas Season and the many New Year's Resolutions of clean living and detoxing, we will be holding a Glusburn School Open Mic Night: The January Retox. Blow away the cold winter blues and the misery of failing your New Year promises, by coming along to our musical Open Mic Night.

Hosted by parents and musicians Gaz Keeton and Steve Wilson, we invite you to join us for an evening of music in the school hall. The previous event held in May saw staff perform, as well as parents and the resident band.

Parents are welcome to bring an instrument, dancing shoes, singing voices or even just a bottle of Prosecco!

We would love to see you perform, so get practising as a solo artist or group and get January fully 'retaxed' with fun! Let us know on the night if you want to perform.

Bring your own beer or wine.

Snacks and soft drinks will also be for sale.

Adults only, tickets £5 in advance

All proceeds to Friends of Glusburn School for resources
